

INTERACT Application Video Rubric

School-

Team Members-

CATEGORY	4	3	2	1
How is your team good for INTERACT?	This is a subjective answer. The point value will be based on how well you answer the question as well as creativity in answering.	This is a subjective answer. The point value will be based on how well you answer the question as well as creativity in answering.	This is a subjective answer. The point value will be based on how well you answer the question as well as creativity in answering.	This is a subjective answer. The point value will be based on how well you answer the question as well as creativity in answering.
How do you demonstrate being a change agent?	Very open to new ideas even if they are uncomfortable and out of character.	Change is a struggle but you accept that it is part of life.	Accepting change is only done on an "as needed" basis.	Change is hard.
Is your team willing to learn something new?	Yes! The team is ready and waiting for new information and that is clearly visible in the video.	The team indicates that they want to learn something new, but they lack enthusiasm.	The team pretty much does the same thing each year, new ideas are not introduced as often as they should be.	The team has laminated lesson plans...
How will you share with others beyond the team coming to INTERACT?	Participants lay out a detailed plan for sharing beyond their team.	A plan is mentioned but details do not follow.	There is a hint of a plan for sharing, but it is not defined nor are details given.	There is no plan in place for sharing outside of the team that comes to INTERACT.
Is your team comradery evident in your video?	The team worked well together to put together a creative video.	The video was nicely put together, but little creativity was involved.	Not everyone participated in the video creation.	It is obvious that one person created the video.
Are your lessons students centered?	As a team you are simply the guide on the side, helping students explore to gain new knowledge.	The team understands what student centered lessons are and that you are using them as much as possible.	Most of the time, the teacher is giving the information, but sometimes you let students complete a project.	As the teacher you are the sage on the stage and you will NOT give that up!