Here is what Jen and I came up with. I hope it helps.

1. In Internet Explorer, go to www.lcisd.org
2. Go to “Tools” in the Menu bar located at the top of the screen. Select “Compatibility View”
3. Go to kronos.lcisd.org
4. Log in with your credentials (do not include @lcisd.org)
5. You may or may not see these dialog boxes every time, but if you do, follow the prompts below.
6. If the “Java Update Needed” dialog box appears, select the “Later” option
7. If the “Do you want to run this application?” dialog box appears, select “Run”.

8. If the “Warning – Unavailable Version of Java Requested” dialog box appears, select “Run with the latest version” option.
9. Once you have completed all the steps above, the dialog box in Step #8 should be the one to appear when logging into Kronos. If it does not appear, consider yourself lucky.

Please let me know if you have any other questions.
